Safeguarding the Children

Many small children going to and from school use the crossing at 62nd st. and Stewart ave., in front of the Englewood High school. Autoists passing the school do not pay any attention to the warning signs posted around the school and thereby endanger the lives of the little ones. There is great need for a police officer at this crossing to see that the children's lives are protected. If at noon and every evening after school a police officer was assigned to this crossing there would be no need for mothers to worry about the safety of their children.

Automobile Licenses and Cards

There is a determination this year to compel every owner and driver of an automobile to comply with all the laws. The city licenses must be exposed on the front of every car with the state license tag, and after Feb. 1st every owner and driver must have an identification card with his or her photo on it, and show it under pain of arrest whenever demanded. It will serve two purposes, prevent so much stealing and also compel owners to pay their share of the expense of maintaining the streets.

What Will May 1st Bring?

Probably no season of spring this country has ever known was so fraught with importance as is this of 1921. Merchants and the commercial world are all looking to what stand labor will take. The reductions and lowering of prices, actual and promised, means that in order for manufacturers to sell to merchants at the lower price, they must reduce wages. The same in the building line, any reduction of importance in the cost of building must mean a scaling of prices, not only in material, but also in wages in the building trades. Everyone expects and wants lower prices, but we have yet to meet anyone who wants the reduction to affect his income, yet the reductions must be general or not at all. We know that thousands of new buildings would be erected in this part of the city if prices of construction were reduced, yet the question arises, will the building trades submit to a lowering of wages? Will the material men let loose of part of their profits? And there must be unity of action to bring the prosperity we have been longing and waiting for. Charges of profiteering and recriminations will do no good; the way to bring a revival in building and business is to lower prices, and everyone along the line will have to submit to some reduction. Another stagnant year will mean actual suffering and want for the year to come, and now is the time, before the actual working season opens, to consider and settle this matter.

6½% AND SAFETY. Our first mortgages upon improved and producing farms have never lost a penny of interest or principal to our hundreds of satisfied customers. They are secured by a first lien upon indestructable property—agricultural land which yields annual and successive harvests which always find a ready market. These securities are non-fluctuating—in which respect they differ from a bond or a stock investment which is always affected by market conditions. Every farm mortgage which we make remains continuously under our supervision until it is paid off in full. Interest and principal are collected and remitted to you without charge. Such an investment is as simple as a savings account and pays over twice as much.

In a generation we have built up a reputation for care and conservatism which has brought us customers from over 30 states. We will be glad to send you our booklet and list of desirable mortgages without obligation.

Death of Edward L. Little

It is with deep regret that we announce the death of Edward L. Little, 7500 S. Sangamon st.

Brother Little passed from his earthly labor to eternal rest on Saturday morning, January 22nd, 1921, from heart failure. He is survived by the widow and a ten year old son.

While our tears mingle with those of the grief-stricken family and relatives, and we feel keenly the great loss, yet do we recall with pleasing satisfaction the many characteristics and kindnesses which endeared our late brother to his host of friends.

He was a member of Apollo Lodge 642, Ancient Free and Accented Masons, and also of the Eastern Star. He has been associated very closely with Hon. James Rea, Republican ward committeman of the 32nd Ward, and of late years has been the most active secretary of the 32nd Ward Regular Republican organization.

As a mark of appreciation of his faithful services as secretary, and the love which each bears to his most devoted wife, the members of the organization, at a special meeting called Jan. 22nd, passed a series of resolutions which were engrossed and sent to the family, together with a very tidy sum of money, to aid them in their unforeseen plight.

Our deceased brother was buried from the Calvary Methodist church, 78th and Morgan sts., on Tuesday, Jan. 25th, services being conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. W. C. Godden and the Imperial Quartette, after which was held the regular Masonic services by Apollo Lodge, with the members of the executive committee of the Republican organization, acting as pall bearers.

The following are those who acted as pall bearers. Jas. Rea, Congressman Elliot W. Sproul, State Representative Phillip Geissler, Hub Battles, F. G. Dahlgren, Hayden E. Simpson, Bert Guild and Roy James Battis.

The R. O. T. C., in plain words the "sojer boys" of the Lindblom High school, were presented with a beautiful regimental flag Tuesday as a reward for their proficiency in drill. The west boys are making a wonderful record and will be well fitted for any emergency that may call them to the field of service.

Foster and McDonnell have bought the Merchant's Telegram of J. C. Sharp. Mr. Sharp's health has become so bad that he has to seek a warmer and dried climate. We don't know anyone that could give the extreme western section a better paper than Foster and McDonnel, who will run the paper in conjunction with the Economist and Auburn Park Booster.

63rd and Halsted is certainly the southern hub of our city. We understand on good authority that the United Cigar Stores, who have a store at the southeast corner do the second largest business in the United States, running a close second to the Flat Iron Building in New York. Those who are around these corners Saturday night rub their eyes and think they are at Madison and State, which is by actual count, the busiest corner in the world.

Loomis Blvd. to Be Extended to 87th St.

The Englewood Times is happy to announce that the Board of South Park Commissioners have defintely decided to extend Loomis blvd. from Marquette rd. (67th st.) through to 87th st. and that work will be commenced on the system this year. This is a great advantage for Englewood, Auburn Park, Gresham and in fact all of the south end, and right here we want to thank the South Park Commissioners for their kindly consideration and very wise decision. We may also add that the size and exact location of the new park is now under discussion, and there is hopes that it will be either of 40 or 60 acres and extend from Loomis blvd. to Racine. To complete the joy of the occasion we wish to announce that 87th st. will immediately be extended through to Western ave., paved and boulevarded and that the County Commissioners will build a paved way from Western to the Palos Park Forest Preserves. This will be 100 feet wide and be a parkway in itself, and is destined to be one of the greatest drives in the city and county.

Also all kinds of mattresses, box springs and, in fact, anything you may want in this line. Call in and get acquainted.—adv.

How the Heart Beats.

A normal heart, from long before birth to death, beats roughly once a second, and if it stops beating at any time of day or night on weekday or Sunday for as long as sixty seconds it never begins beating again. The normal beat begins at the top of the heart and runs down to the bottom of the heart with the regularity of a toss running down the length of a rope. When the toss, however, instead of running regularly down the length of the rope, scatters its force and merely sets the rope shaking feebly throughout its length it loses its force, and in the same way when the beat of the heart instead of running regularly and easily down from the top of the heart to the bottom merely sets the heart feebly a-quiver we have the condition called fibrillation.

Dinse, 10803 Longwood dr., a drug clerk at the Owl Drug store, Madison and Clark sts., won the Tribune Politeness Reporter's gift of fifty iron men. Mr. Dinse is very modest about the gift; his only comment being, "I like to turn out satisfied customers, those who come back."

Value of Snakes.

Most people have a decided shrinking from snakes, which is not to be wondered at in tropical countries, where their bite is venomous and often fatal. But the grass snake ought not to be confounded with the rattlers, cobras or pythons. It is as harmless to humanity as a frog and a good deal more useful. No greater enemy to bugs is in existence. And slugs are among the most hurtful of garden and field pests. They keep down the numbers also of such other pests as mice, shrews and other small rodents. But as slug destroyers they deserve to be cherished rather than massacred at sight, which is their usual fate.

Hamilton Park Branch Library

In case some of our readers are fed up on fiction and would like to have some real solid food, something to really study over, we are going to tell you about H G. Wells new book

"The Outline of History" by H G Wells ("Mr Wells' Plain History of Life and Mankind," subtitle) is in two volumes, and is composed of nine books, as follows The Making of Our World; The Making of Man, The Dawn of History, Judea, Greece and India; Rise and Collapse of the Roman Empire, Christianity and Islam; The Great Mongol Empire of the Land-ways and the New Empires of the Sea-ways, The Age of the Great Powers; The Next Stage in History

A history of this kind is just what is wanted at the present day After all, we all live on the same little planet: we are all members of the same species, and it is very interesting to see how we traveled from our starting point to where we are now There are now sufficient scientific and historical data to make the attempt possible, it is time we had a glimpse of the wood: we have had innumerable examinations of the separate trees

We do not need to comment on the author or his style All who have read "Mr Britling Sees It Through," "Joan and Peter" "God the Invisible King" or any other of the numerous worth-while books, know his supreme mastery of the pen

H G Wells more, perhaps, than any other well known writer has gone through a series of experiences and taken his readers with him His books on social and political questions on religion and philosophy if not taken as the last word on the subject are always the last thought Those of us who have gone with him through his various phases of thought are anxious to see him through and anxiously waiting for his last word

"The Outline of History" is his last word now and eminently readable He could not be dull if he tried And the great variety of matter embodied in this work will serve for many debates and discussions by thinking men and women The first impressions made by these volumes is deepened by their study

The library is open from 9 a m to 9 p m

ARMENIAN GIRL PLEADS FOR SISTERS

Tragic Tale of Harem Victims' Sufferings.

More than ten thousand Armenian girls have been rescued from Turkish harems through the help and generosity of America. This is the statement given out by the Near East Relief, which is making the saving of these tragic victims of Turkish cruelty one of the most important features of its work.

That it is a work which in itself justifies the millions that America has spent in this stricken land is testified to by little Miss Eliza Dodurian a twenty-year-old Armenian girl recently arrived in this country Miss Dodurian, through the intervention of American missionaries, was herself spared

the sufferings of exile and the horrors of slavery, but she knows all too well the terrible fate of her sisters and friends It is for them—the soft eyed little girls of fifteen and sixteen whom last she saw being torn from their mothers arms and carried off on the saddle bows of the Turkish soldiers—that she makes her plea

What their lives have been since then may be guessed by a look into the faces of any of the ten thousand who have passed through the Rescue Homes of the Near East Relief Their heads bowed in shame, they creep into the American relief stations, trying vainly to hide the tattoo marks which proclaim to the world their story.

Thousands of these girls have been brought back to life and hope through the work of the Near East Relief It is to rescue the one hundred thousand more still held captive that the Near East Relief is making its appeal this year.

High Commissioner Praises Near East Relief

Rear Adm'l Bristol

Constantinople: Everybody seems to have a good word to say for the wonderful work being done by the more than 500 American men and women workers of the Near East Relief. In a public address Rear Admiral Mark L Bristol, U. S. Navy, High Commissioner to Turkey, who has charge of all American interests in the Near East, went on record whole heartedly in support of the American relief organization.

"If I have been able to encourage the workers of the Near East Relief or give them assistance in any way," the Admiral said, "I feel that I am more than repaid in keeping with the success that has attended the efforts of the Near East Relief Committee in this part of the world in the past. I hope the future will bring you greater success. It will always give me pleasure to render any assistance possible to the Committee as a whole, to any of the workers, and to the great work of humanity that the committee represents."

When 139,000 Russian refugees from the Crimea arrived off Constantinople, Admiral Bristol immediately cabled the Near East Relief for help, and the Near East Relief bakeries fed these refugees and N E R workers helped the American sailors to get the sick to hospitals.

Admiral Bristol is in intimate touch with all the work being conducted by the Near East Relief and speaks from personal knowledge of its accomplishments.

INVESTIGATOR INDORSES NEAR EAST RELIEF

During the Peace Conference in Paris the American Commission to Negotiate Peace, appreciating the importance of accurate, first hand information about the Armenian situation, sent Capt Benjamin Burges Moore of the American Red Cross as head of a special mission to study and report on conditions. Captain Moore's findings as to the value of the work done by the Near East Relief form part of his official report.

"Armenians are sincerely grateful to us," Captain Moore states, "since it is no exaggeration to say that they would have disappeared as a nation had it not been for this splendid help given them by the Near East Relief and the American Food Administration. The best that sympathetic Americans can do is to continue and enlarge the present admirable work of the Near East Relief."

Little Suggestions to Telephone Users

When you signal the telephone operator and ask for a number she repeats it. She is trained to follow this practice in order to be sure she has heard you correctly.

It is a good plan to answer "Yes," "Right" or something similar if the operator's reply shows that she has rightly understood you. Then she is sure and can make the proper connection without loss of time.

When a conversation is finished, it is well for both parties to say "Good-bye." This often avoids an extra call made in the belief that the users have been "cut off" in the midst of their conversation.

Woodlawn Theatre

Manager Karsas of the Woodlawn theatre is certainly a busy man these days and his eternal vigilance keeps the programs at his beautiful playhouse just a lap or two ahead of any other house in his neighborhood. In fact it has become an established fact that the newest and best of the films will always be seen first at the Woodlawn. The superb music is a feature that is always appreciable to the audiences.

Today and tomorrow Friday and Saturday Jan 28th and 29th they present for the last two times their big double feature program of Doug Fairbanks MacLean and Doris May in The Rookie's Return. MARLOWE HIPPODROME

Beginning the coming week a new era of vaudeville bookings will govern at the Marlowe Hippodrome and the Pantages circuit will hereafter supply the talent. All lovers of sprightly vaudeville know that the Pantages bookings are the best procurable and with a variety and versatility that few agencies are able to compete with. Owing to the hour of our going to press being somewhat early we are unable to give the attractions for this week or for Saturday and Sunday but both Mr Koffman and Mr Plough, the proprietors are making the bookings and it would be difficult to find two more capable or competent men in that line both being producers and owners in the vaudeville line for many years and at the head of the list at that.

The regular program at the Marlowe is for Mondays five splendid vaudeville acts as well as the best of exclusive photoplays of comedy and travelogues. For Tuesdays they offer besides the regular program the song publishers revue as well as local song contests. On Wednesdays and Thursdays five superb vaudeville acts and a first showing photoplay selected as well as comedies and news of the day. On Friday they have a fine professional vaudeville revue including seven or more acts introducing the finest and best from the big circuits. On Saturdays and Sundays six of the highest class vaudeville acts photoplays and comedies and travel pictures of standard merit. Complete changes of programs are made every Monday Wednesday Friday and Saturday. Continuous performances Sunday from 2 to 11 o'clock and always a children's matinee on Saturday afternoon.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

None of the attractions on the American circuit this season are creating more talk or winning more praise than the new Max Spiegel show, The Social Follies.

Mr. Spiegel's career in vaudeville is known to his hundreds of signal successes. In fact he has never known a failure. The many triumphant seasons of "The Golf Links" and the Urban of America

Mr. Spiegel has given his production a wonderful equipment in every department. He has selected a distinguished cast. He has furnished a costume display the cost of which would make the producer of the average musical show sit up and take notice. The two acts and ten scenes found in the lavish comedy are replete of stage pictures and the most musical of music numbers. There is a chorus which even surpasses in beauty the beauty of previous Spiegel choruses and that is saying much as the Spiegel shows has never failed to be the talk of every city where Spiegel Group shows are seen.

The Merry Founders, who have garnered so bright laurels in the career of this product.

The Social Follies will be seen at the Englewood theatre all next week. The book is from the pen of Harry L. Cort and is an unusually sparkling one. The music is composed by a team that is especially moulded to the likes of burlesque audiences. The scenery is by Edward Hardy whose artistic work in the scenic line has earned him the title of

EMPRESS THEATRE

Manager Harry Mitchell of the Empress theatre has an unusual bill for the week beginning Monday Jan. 31st when he will introduce for six days only the great and only Sophie Tucker with her six kings of syncopation, the greatest jazz band, vocal and instrumental ever in vaudeville before the public. Also a return engagement of The Coon and the Wop by Cahill and Romaine. This extraordinary attraction is by far the best show in Englewood this season. There will be a matinee every day in the week at 2:15 all seats 25 cents, and two shows nightly at 7:15 and 9:15. Don't miss this one.

The Empress theatre is drawing extraordinary crowds at this season. In fact they have gained over the attendance of the early summer when they closed for the heated season, and the beautiful new decorations are a source of delight as the effect upon the entrance is at once joyous and cheerful.

The programs arranged by Manager Mitchell are away above any before attempted in any outside house, and the top liner attractions of the best "loop" houses are seen each week at the Empress. The variety of entertainment is a never-failing source of enjoyment, and instead of the regular routine of hoop rolling, a contortionist and a bar act, every variety of performance will be seen at the Empress -usual grand musical features predominating. From the best of grand opera to the jaziest jazz, from the dear old melodies of our grandmother's days to the latest songs of the period, and from every instrument from the piccolo to the latest saxaphone, the one stringed Chinese fiddle to the richest violincello and interspersed with these comes acts of wonder, athletic, and mystifying, as well as feats of strength and daring. In all the Empress programs are calculated and studied to please everyone at all times, and blase indeed must be the man or woman who cannot enjoy an afternoon or evening at this excellent house. The pictures are good first view features

City Wants Another Bond Issue

It is only a little matter of $18,792,500 that the city administration wants in an extra bond issue to be voted on Feb. 22nd; $12,500,000 is to pay last year's municipal debt and the balance is the interest charge. If the people approve of the issue it will be on the market July 1st. The city has reached its legal limit of bonded indebtedness, but the legal department by holding that bonds authorized and not yet sold are not part of the city's indebtedness, although they may be sold at any time legally, will let this grand amount pass under the limit, if the voters approve of the issue. If you vote for it, expect another tax boost, which means increased rents and all that goes with it.

Peculiar Mud Geysers.

The mud geysers of the Salton sea, California, came into existence recently, and cover a little more than two acres. They are so-called mud volcanoes and are various sized caldrons of hot mud.

Some of them first appear as small springs and others develop with loud explosions which tear holes in the earth from four to ten feet wide and to a depth of ten to twelve feet.

Salton sea is about 265 feet below the level of the sea, and until a few years ago was dry. From 1904 to 1906 water was diverted into the basin by the irrigation canal from the Colorado river, and it became a lake.

Since the stopping of the flow of water into the lake it has been rapidly sinking, and the mud geysers have reappeared in the same vicinity in which they existed before the lake's formation.

The geysers are supposed to be an accompaniment of earthquakes.—Kansas City Star.

Sharing Your Books.

The world is full of shut-ins, and there are those who are starving for books and papers, but how many of us make any effort to search them out?

A clever article on books which I lately read annoyed me by explaining how stupid is the custom of borrowing books, and how vastly more desirable it is for each man to own his own. I decided that the writer was a rich man (although my better judgment should tell me that writers seldom are rich), and I decided also that he was missing a lot of good things if he neither lends nor borrows books. I believe that a book is about the pleasantest thing there is to share. It produces such a bond of sympathy if it is enjoyed by a friend, and it provides at once something worth while to talk about.

And people do return books, especially if you put your name and "please return" inside and remember where your books are visiting.—Ella Wister Haines in Christian Herald.

Appreciation of the Potato.

In this country the chief and practically only interest in the potato today is as a vegetable for the table. We are greatly surpassed in this use by Europe and Germany in particular. In that land the average annual per capita consumption was seven bushels in normal times, while our own was two and a half. The laborers of eastern Germany ate 17 bushels per annum. The other European countries are as a rule far above us and the diet of many an Irishman is said to be potatoes and spring water—for the first dinner and supper. In addition to this direct consumption uses of the potato largely unknown to Uncle Sam are for flour starch, dextrine, glucose and alcohol.

Englewood Business Men Attention

Englewood Advertising Service, a high class organization composed of advertising experts, is established here in Englewood by Englewood people for the purpose of promoting Englewood business. It is our aim to keep Englewood business in Englewood and to attract outside business to Englewood.

To lay the foundation for the work we are doing for a bigger and better Englewood, we propose to publish for this district a classified business and telephone directory. This directory will give the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all subscribers in Englewood, as well as the advertisements of the business houses who desire to be represented in the display classified section.

This directory will also contain much useful information about Englewood that everyone should know. It will give information on where to find Amusement Parks, Band Concerts, Banks, Baseball, Churches, Clubs, Gymnasiums, Hospitals, Parks, Public Play Grounds, Public Swimming Pools, Public Libraries, Public Schools, etc.

This directory is purely an Englewood proposition to be published in Englewood. It will form the foundation for the other advertising which we are doing for the merchants of Englewood.

A copy of this directory will be delivered without charge to each and every telephone subscriber in Englewood. That means that we will print and distribute 25,000 books of this kind here. In every store, office, and home where a telephone is in service our book will be in use day in and day out. This directory is endorsed by the following merchants and bankers who give it their moral support.

S. J. Koehler, President Englewood Commercial & Civic Association.

Gerald E. Sullivan, Editor Englewood Times.

E. W. Stansbury, Cashier Englewood State Bank.

C. M. Butler, Englewood Print Shop.

Dr. Frank J. Norton, Pathologist.

J. E. Foster, Publisher Englewood Economist.

We invite the co-operation of all the Englewood merchants to help build a bigger and better Englewood. For future information regarding this publication call Wentworth 249, Business Manager.

"Let us believe that right is might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

Doug's Po-etry

It was midnite on the ocean,
Not a street car was in sight,
The sun was shining brightly,
For it rained all day that night.
'Twas a summer's day in winter.
The snow was raining fast,
And a barefoot girl with shoes on
Stood sitting in the grass.
The organ pealed potatoes,
The lard was rendered by the choir,
Just 'cause coal was going higher,
Someone set the church on fire.
"Holy smokes" the preacher cried,
As he wildly pulled his hair,
Now his head resembles heaven,
For there is no parting there.

Started in on your spring plowing yet?

No wonder air castles are popular, you don't have to pay taxes on them.

While Englewood may not have heard the first robin, it has seen the "blind" pig.

Casey says, "Whin yiz see a mon holding up a post, it must be loose, or himsilf toight."

Casey remarks, "Most iv us would be perfect if we would only folly the advice we do be givin' to others."

Come to think of it, there is lots of people who would be happy to have income enough to pay a tax on.

The man that could not be persuaded to accept one of the aldermanic nominations with a cute little $5,000 salary, will please stand up and be counted.

It may be true that "the meek shall inherit the earth," but by the time we get around to that, there won't be much of a demand for real estate.

The man that went to California to escape Chicago's severe climate this winter has cause for a suit for damages against our heavenly climate.

If we shut the "crime scenes" out of the movies, and prevent pool room loafing, how in the world will the boys learn to be tough?

Because the man who robbed the mails of $188,000 was a minister it is played up as front page stuff for a week. Any other occupation would scarcely get a ten line local.

Yes, I have an attack of that sleeping sickness regularly. It generally attacks me about 10 o'clock and leaves me at 7 the next morning. Deo gratias.

The building trades unions are anxious to have everything else come down but their wages. I also know of a man who wanted to have every one of his wife's relations enlist for the war.

Funny isn't it? Many of the men who are kicking strongly against carrying auto identification cards with their photo on it, would raise particular heck if the police did not arrest any stranger seen driving their car, yet how is the cop to know?

Far be it for me to misrepresent my fellow co-laborer in the field of righteousness, but I cannot account for a young man taking his auto to the city, parking it in Grant Park, and a few hours after not being able to find the park. No, John Foster was not—his wife was with him.

Henry Ford wants to borrow $60,000,000. Here is a scheme, Henry: Have every one who has cussed your flivvers send you a dime, and you will run over a million or two.

My friend Phil Sissman "scooped" all the other papers in his last issue by publishing what purported to be the illumination on Halsted st. It took two months for Phil to know the street was illuminated, and if the street were as black as the so-called picture, it would take an army of police to keep the thugs from its stygian darkness. Please don't "scoop" us again, Phil, or we might die of heart failure.

A bride went to the grocery store to do her morning marketing. She was determined that the grocer would not take advantage of her inexperience. "These eggs are dreadfully small," she remarked. "I know it," the grocer replied, "but they are what the farmer brings me. They are just fresh from the country this morning. "Yes," said the bride, "and that's the trouble with those farmers. They are so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them off the nests too soon!"

Director Raymond Wells, who besides producing motion pictures, is one of the directors of the Hollywood officers' training camp, tells of an encounter between Instructor Captain Eastman and a recruit: "You've fallen out of line not less than five times. You should not be in this regiment at all." cried Eastman. "Where shoulud I be?" demanded the recruit. "In the flying corps, and then you'd only have to fall out once."

E. B. M. A. Praises Chief Fitzmorris

The policy of the Englewood Business Men's Association in regard to police conditions in Englewood was defined at a special meeting of the association held last Monday noon at the call of eight members of the organization.

Spirited discussion participated in by most of the two hundred members present resulted in the adoption of the following resolutions:

"Whereas, it has come to the attention of the members of the E. B. M. A. that this association has been reported in the press of the city of Chicago, as satisfied with the management of the police in the Englewood district under certain police officials;

"And whereas, on the contrary it is the opinion of this association that the police conditions in this section under the said police officials were a discredit to the Chicago police department and a discredit to this section of Chicago in the opinion of the better citizens of our community;

"And whereas, it is our opinion that Chief Fitzmorris, by his fearless prosecution of said police officials has done much to better the local police conditions that we have so long been subject to and that his actions in this behalf will result in an improvement in police conditions in the entire city,

"And whereas, we believe that while there is still room for improvement here as well as elsewhere, we now believe that it is only a matter of time that the police department of the city of Chicago under Chief Fitzmorris will be as much a subject of pride among our citizens as are our business institutions and recreation facilities;

"Therefore, be it resolved that we, the Englewood Business Men's Association, in special meeting assembled, extend our hearty congratulations to Chief Charles Fitzmorris in appreciation of the great good he has done by his action in causing the removal of said officials from the police department of the city of Chicago; and

"Be it further resolved, that we give unto Chief Fitzmorris our hearty support and co-operation in such further action as he may take in further cleaning up police conditions in general;

"And be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and a copy be sent to each of the following: Mayor William Hale Thompson, Chief Charles Fitzmorris, the City Council, the Chicago Press, the Englewood Press, and to Aldermen Fisher, Moran, Hogan and Lyle.

(Signed)

"ENGLEWOOD BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION."

An article which appeared in the Sunday Tribune stating that Ernest Holtorff, president of the association, testified at the trial of Captain Ryan, recently suspended by Chief Fitzmorris, testified in behalf of the Englewood Business Men's Association. It was proven that Mr. Holtorff's testimony was that of a private citizen and not as president of the association. The association did not censure Mr. Holtorff for his action.

Letters of acknowledgment and appreciation for the association's resolutions from Mayor Thompson and Chief Fitzmorris have been received by the secretary of the association.

Dan Wentworth was also a guest and put in his oar at opportune times. The Englewood Kiwanis is doing much good work, and is the most representative body of business and professional men in this part of the city.

ONE GREAT TELEPHONE COMPANY FOR STATE OF ILLINOIS FORMED

Illinois Bell Succeeds Former Chicago and Central Union Companies

New Year's Day ushered in a new statewide telephone company for Illinois.

The new company is the Illinois Bell Telephone Company. It was formed through the purchase by the Chicago Telephone Company of the Illinois properties of the Central Union Telephone Company. The new company is officered by the same men, who for years have devoted themselves to the development and operation of the Bell telephone system in this state.

B. E. Sunny, for twelve years president of the Chicago Telephone Company, continues in that office. Edgar S. Bloom, for seven years at the head of the Central Union Company, was made a vice-president, and W. R. Abbott, for many years general manager of the Chicago company, was made a vice-president and remains general manager.

Changing the name from "Chicago Telephone" and "Central Union" to "Illinois Bell" meant the passing of two well-known names in Illinois' telephone history. The new company is a large one. It has 810,000 telephones of its own, and its lines connect with those of 340 other state companies having 340,000 telephones, making a total of 1,150,000 telephones which can be reached by this system in Illinois alone.

It was estimated that the new company's system of toll lines connecting cities and towns, together with the local exchanges, requires about 2,300,000 miles of wire. The new company has upward of 20,000 men and women employes.

The book cost of the property of the new company is $107,000,000. It was asserted that it would cost in excess of $200,000,000 to replace this property. During 1921, the new work laid out by the new company calls for an expenditure of $14,500,000.

The traffic department reported that it had won its long contest against the conditions prevailing for more than two years, which resulted in a lowering of the service standard. These conditions, it was said, were due to an insufficient force of operators, inexperienced operators, and many other causes. It was pointed out that most of these conditions have been removed, and that there is now a marked improvement in the service. The company's announcement contained a notice that the service is practically back to the pre-war standard.

Delay in installing telephones, also a result of war conditions, promises to be done away with, according to the company's claim, which said it was hoped that applications for service may now be cared for without delay.

Further development of the toll service throughout the state is one of the new company's chief aims. It was declared that improvements would be made which would strengthen telephone communication with the several hundred connecting companies, in the interest of a faster and better service for the whole state.

New Books at Hiram Kelly Library

Found! In the public library, just the book you have heard so much about and wanted so much to read. "Main Street," by Sinclair Lewis. The American small town we've all lived in some time or other. We recognize the streets and know the people and we sympathize with the doctor's eager young bride in her disheartening first view and her years of revolt against the town's complacent ugliness. A nice sense of humor presents the town and Carol without preaching at either but a nice sense of human values shows Carol gradually "growing in grace" to the point where she realizes that after all Gopher Prairie, Minn., will find and achieve its own beauty from within and perhaps she and her children may have a small part in the finding.

Other new books which will interest all alert people, and may be found on the shelves at Hiram Kelly Library, are:

Novels

Galsworthy, In Chancery; Poole, Blind; Burroughs, Tarzan the Untamed; Porter, Egan; Wiley, The Wildcat; Sullivan, The Rapids; Tompkins, Joanna Builds a Nest; Masters, Mitch Miller; Olmstead, Stafford's Island; Sinclair, The Quirt; Pryde, Marqueray's Duel; Bojer, Life; Onions, Bridge of Kisses; Sedgwick, Third Window; Hinkson, Love of Brothers; Bailey, Trumpeter Swan; Jepson, Loudwater Mystery; Glasgow, The Builders; Dostoevskii, The Idiot; Swinnerton, September; White, Rose Dawn; Witwer, There's No Base Like Home; Cohen, Come Seven; McSpadden, Famous detective stories: Fox, Erskine Dale; Mason, The Summons; Woolf, Night and Day; Mundy, Ivory Trail; Couperus, The Inevitable; Wharten, The Age of Innocence; McKenna, Lady Lilith; Johnston, Mrs. Warren's Daughter; McGrath, Drums of Jeopardy; Dell, Moon-Calf; McCutcheon, West Wind Drift.

Camp Fire News

Saturday afternoon, 2:30 p. m., will be held the annual meeting of the Greater Chicago Guardians Association in the Eleanor Club rooms in the Stevens building. All Guardians are urged to attend.

Plans for the Birthday party are under way and it is to be an unusual one at which you will have a good time. Ask your guardian what the plans are and where and when and at what date it shall be. Of this I am sure, it will be novel, new, mysterious and lots of fun.

Southwest District Guardians will meet the first Tuesday in February at Lewis-Champlin school, to plan for the big Council Fire to be held the 15th of February in the same school. If your group wishes to have a part come out to this meeting and have that part assigned to you. Fathers, mothers and friends of the girls are especially invited to attend. Honors are to be awarded to the groups working in the recent contest.

It was a great pleasure to your Field Guardian to drop into the meeting of the Tatohekiya, the Camp Fire group of Lewis-Champlin school, Mrs. A. E. Stover, guardian. These girls are but a short time in the work, but of the 15 girls present, all knew the Ode to Fire, the three lighting ceremonies, Burn, Fire Burn and Mummy Moon. At the end of the meeting the girls rose, clicked heels together, stood at attention and saluted the flag, singing the Star Spangled Banner—gave the Allegiance to our Flag. Then, at two blasts of the Guardians' whistle, fell in line and marched through the hall to the outer door. The girls are to be congratulated.

The Field Guardian will be glad to visit any of the groups at their request at a Ceremonial, Work or Business Meeting.

Guardians, girls, why not send us news of your activities. If you read this column don't you want a share in it. We want every group in Englewood to use this column. Send items by Tuesday to the Field Guardian, 6061 S. La Salle St.

Kewance Alan held an Around the Fire Pow Wow at their guardian's home last Monday evening. The lights were turned out and in the glowing embers of the grate fire the girls told what they saw for the future Camp Fire Girls. One girl saw in the upper crust of black the people who did not know of Camp Fire and the red embers below were the Camp Fire Girls, showing by their daily lives the spirit of Camp Fire as they sought to enlighten the unseeing, unbelieving people to Camp Fire.

An happy omen seemed to be given the girls as at the conclusion of the story a red tongue of fire burst through and threw its light over the black crust above. So shall Camp Fire Girls show by their happy, bright daily lives, the beauties of Camp Fire to those about us.

Camp Tuiega met at the home of Miss Helen McReynolds for a social meeting. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Meeting adjourned to meet in one week at the Field House.

Camp Chittamango held their meeting at the home of Ruth Cambourn, for their ceremonial meeting. Many honors were won by the girls. Meeting adjourned early to prepare for a matinee party on Saturday.

Camp Chittamango enjoyed a very delightful matinee at the Garrick—"Irene," the play was enjoyed by all the girls. Before the matinee we enjoyed a delicate luncheon at Marshall Field's in the Colonial room.

The Akiyuhopi Camp held its monthly work meeting on Friday, January 21st, at the Normal Park Baptist church. After adjournment they partook of a nice lunch of sandwiches, cocoa, cake, cookies, apples and oranges. At 6 o'clock they left for the Ward Baking Co., hiking down and arriving at 7.

They were conducted around the plant by a very efficient guide, who explained everything in detail and gave the girls a most interesting time. Just as they started home he presented each one with a loaf of bread and a cake. All enjoyed the outing very much and are planning other similar trips in the near future.

Mrs. Geo. F. Gordon has started a Junior Camp Fire at the Normal Park Baptist church, which will hold its meetings on Wednesday afternoon. There are fourteen girls in the new camp. A business meeting was held and the following officers elected: Louise Rees, president Jane Gustafson, secretary and Mary Bassett, treasurer.

The Akiyuhopi Camp Fire visited the Ward Baking Co. plant at 57th and La Salle Sts., Friday evening, January 21st. They were treated royally. A guide piloted them thru and explained every working detail of the baking process. All will enjoy Ward's bread and cake more than ever, having seen the absolute cleanliness of the place and everything in the making and handling of the bread. Each girl was presented with a cake and loaf of red hot bread.

MRS. GORDON, Guardian.
